

NOB HILL NOTABLES

The Huntington Park Tree Lighting

— The more things change, the more they stay the same...

There is much new on the Hill this holiday season, but the traditions that bind us together as a community will continue thanks to the generosity of some of Nob Hill's best friends.

Anticipating the sale of the Huntington Hotel this summer, the hotel's ownership worked with the Brocklebank Apartments to continue the tradition of lighting the trees on Nob Hill. The Brocklebank willingly accepted the responsibility and in addition Fritz Property Group has pledged a donation of $1,000 toward a new light string, continuing the modernization project begun last year.

Once the sale was announced, a new location had to be identified for the annual no host cocktail party held prior to the lighting. Tom Klein, Regional Vice President and General Manager of the Fairmont stepped in and will be providing a no host cocktail party with delicious appetizers prior to the tree lighting. He also will be serving hot chocolate in the park for Association members during the tree lighting.

Thanks to these great Association members and supporters for keeping Nob Hill bright this holiday season!

2 PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE	IT IS THE SEASON	3 - 6 HOLIDAYS ON THE HILL		6 ST. FRANCIS MEMORIAL HOSPITAL	7 NOTABLE MEMBERS
-----------------------------	---------------------	-------------------------------------	--	--	-------------------------

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT ~ ROBERT VARNI

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

In our last Newsletter we were pleased to report that we had reached a favorable outcome. Our year began with the San Francisco Planning Commission permitting the Masonic Temple and Live Nation to open a major entertainment center in our quiet neighborhood. Our Appeal to the Board of Supervisors fell upon deaf ears as they also approved.

We filed an action in the Superior Court. The Court gave thoughtful attention to both sides and ruled in our favor. The Masonic Temple and Live Nation could not open a major entertainment center in our neighborhood.

However, under the Planning Code, they had the right to continue as in the past as a less than major entertainment center. What does that mean? They can continue to operate the facility in the prior manner which is known as "Historic Usage." They will not be allowed to expand the operation.

So, our current battle is to make sure that the elements of "Historic Usage" are maintained and no intensification or expansion occurs. They are currently appearing before the Planning Commission again to seek a Permit under the "Historic Usage" section of the Code. As we examine their Application, we find they are attempting to increase the definition of "Historic Usage." We follow their every move.

It is likely this effort will follow a similar path as did the previous Application. We need your help and we need your presence at meetings. We will be in communication with you as the plot develops.

To a more pleasant subject, the Holidays are upon us. The Annual Meeting on November 10, is always a joyous occasion to see our friends and neighbors. The Tree Lighting in Huntington Park follows the Party at the Fairmont Laurel Court on November 28. All Nob Hill Association members are invited to a reception on December 5 at the beautiful Grand Café in the Monaco Hotel. Designed to introduce us to their new chef, it will be a reception especially for us that all of our members will surely want to attend.

I wish you a Happy Thanksgiving and a very Merry Christmas!!!

THANKSGIVING BRUNCH WILL BE SERVED IN THE BALLROOM;
CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS FESTIVITIES
WILL BE AT THE NEW PARALLEL 37 RESTAURANT AND IN THE BALLROOM.

*Reservations (415) 773-6198The Ritz-Carlton, San Francisco announces New Restaurant *Parallel 37*Open in December with Chef Ron Siegel in the Kitchen*

The restaurant is inspired by the geographic latitude running near the San Francisco Bay Area. That region in Northern California, along the line of Parallel 37 is the epicenter of one of the richest food and wine cultures in the world, the heart of the sustainable agriculture movement in the United States and the iconic wine region around Napa and Sonoma.

In celebration of that geographic location, for restaurant Parallel 37 Chef Ron Siegel will feature meats, fish, fruits and vegetables from the bountiful region found locally in and around the San Francisco Bay area, complemented by a wine program focused on regional California wines, many from Napa and Sonoma. “I want to create a dining experience where the food is not over-manipulated,” said Chef Ron Siegel. “Simple and delicious American contemporary cuisine served in an energetic and inviting space with only the best handpicked ingredients.”

The Ritz-Carlton, San Francisco announced in August that The Dining Room would close after over 20 years on the culinary scene in San Francisco. “We recognized years ago that the dining room had become a special occasion restaurant,” said Steven Holt, regional director of Public Relations for The Ritz-Carlton Hotels of Northern California. “Our local clientele, as well as hotel guests have told us they are looking for a less formal, more approachable dining experience. We listened and are excited to create something completely new.”

Parallel 37's new interior, by EDG Interior Architecture + Design, brings an urban edge to this Nob Hill luxury hotel. The architects have created an entirely new space, envisioning a relaxed and lively social experience. “We anticipate the bar to be very social with an innovative, mixologist-driven cocktail program and serving small plates and wines for pairing and sharing,” said Siegel. The Bar and Lounge will seat 46 in a combination of bar, lounge and communal table seating and will open directly into the main restaurant. Banquettes will line the back wall. A chef's table will open off the kitchen and a semi-private room will be available for small parties.

Nob Hill Association honored by the Saint Francis Memorial Hospital

Members Events on Nob Hill

August 2, the University Club opened its door to an educational and fun evening for Association members. Board Vice Presidents David Harmer and Gary Gielow gave updates on the Masonic, the park and membership status. Members were thrilled to learn that the recent campaign for new members had been very successful, that the Masonic Live Nation situation was challenging but hopeful and that Association President Bob Varni had a vision of making Huntington Park one of the ten finest small parks in the world. Before and after the discussions, members enjoyed cocktails and appetizers as well as conversation with their neighbors. Thanks to the University Club for helping to make this possible.

September 27, St. Francis Hospital Foundation invited NHA members to a cocktail party honoring the Association and featuring an art show and tour of its newly renovated emergency room. Tom Hennessy, CEO of the hospital, spoke to members about the upgrading project the hospital had undertaken, stating that patient comfort was the prime concern at St. Francis. The renovation added many private rooms to help patients heal in a dignified environment. The operating room tour left attendees speechless at the high technology environment.
